9363 Centre Pointe Drive, West Chester, OH 45069
Tuesday, February 28, 2017 at 7 pm
An hour-long presentation by Eric Guttag

African-Americans are rarely associated with the legends of America's Western frontier. But the Buffalo Soldiers (9th and 10th U.S. Cavalry) were a well-known and feared adversary to the Native American population. Even rarer were black lawmen in the violent West of the 19th Century. But there was one black Deputy U.S. Marshall in the Indian Territory (now Oklahoma) who would become so famous and such a nemesis of outlaws that he was rumored to be the prototype for the cinematic masked Lone Ranger. So "return with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear," and the tales of African-Americans in the Wild Wild West!
